SLIDE 1 · INTRODUCTION

People Buy Trust Before They Buy Services

Think about this — when parents see you helping consistently...

✓

Sharing study tips

✓

Solving problems

✓

Explaining concepts

✓

Guiding families

They stop seeing you as a salesperson. They begin seeing you as an educator.

“ The more you teach, the less you need to convince. ”

SLIDE 2 · SEARCH DEMAND

Why Content Marketing Works

Parents search online every day for:

How to Improve Maths

Best Study Habits

AI for Children

Olympiad Preparation

GCSE Guidance

English Speaking

Homework Tips

Parenting Advice

“ If your content answers their questions, you become their trusted guide. ”

SLIDE 6 · CONTENT BALANCE

The 80/20 Rule

Balance what you give with what you invite:

■ 80% — GIVE VALUE

Educate

Inspire

Help

Guide

■ 20% — INVITE ACTION

Free Webinar

Assessment

Demo Session

“ Parents follow people who consistently provide value. ”

SLIDE 8 · STORYTELLING

Storytelling Builds Trust

Don't only teach. Share stories:

Student Success

Parent Feedback

Learning Journey

Workshop Highlights

Teacher Experiences

Facts inform.

Stories inspire.

“ Stories create emotional connection — facts inform, stories inspire. ”

SLIDE 9 · PURPOSE CHECK

Every Content Needs a Purpose

Ask before posting — does it:

Educate?

Inspire?

Solve a problem?

Build trust?

Encourage learning?

“ If the answer is yes, it's worth posting. ”

SLIDE 10 · CONSISTENCY

Stay Consistent

Don't post for one week, then disappear. Suggested rhythm:

1 Educational Post Daily

2–3 Short Videos Weekly

1 Live Session Weekly

1 Long-Form Article Weekly

“ Small consistent actions outperform occasional bursts. ”

■ THE CONTENT CREATOR'S MINDSET

“ A salesperson looks for the next customer. An educator builds a reputation that attracts the next hundred customers. Every helpful post is like planting a seed — some grow today, some grow months later, but every seed has the potential to become an opportunity. ”

REMEMBER

Every helpful post is a seed. Teach generously, post consistently, and trust will follow.

Parents don't buy from strangers — they buy from people they already trust.

--- Slide 15 ---

SECTION 11 · COMPLETE

Teach First. Sell Second.

People buy trust before they buy services.
